TRY TO DO TOO MUCH

ERROR MOST WOMEN MAKE WHEN HOUSE CLEANING.

To Lay Out a System and Do the Work One Room at a Time is Better Than Upsetting the Whole House.

Winter, with its attendant duties in household affairs, means that the woman who has system in her plans will accomplish more work and have more satisfactory results than the erratic, makeshift housekeeper, who cleans because she is expected to do so, and whose work speaks for her incompetence.

House cleaning should not be a matter to be feared, and it decidedly should not disrupt the home and verify the "eating from the mantelpiece" joke.

The first rule is to plan the time to be given to the work and to do one room at a time. This will insure thoroughness, and will allow a part of the day for rest, so that a wreck of a woman need not greet the home-comers at night. Most women are enthusiastic, and when one room is cleaned feel that they might as well go through the suite. This is the error for which they pay later on.

The easiest way when cleaning the furniture which has been covered is to remove the linen coverings and place in a tub of water to which naphtha or borax has been added. While these additions are doing the washing for you the furniture should be taken out of doors and thoroughly brushed with a stiff brush. If the covering is durable, a beating with a rattan beater should be given.

The woodwork should be wiped off with warm water and a chamola.

Paints should be cleaned, and you have no idea what an extra coat of enamel on white paint or varnish on other wood will do.

Wallpaper can be cleaned by wiping it with breadcrumbs. Art gum or kneaded rubber will do this work, as also will bread dough that has not much lard in it.

Carpets or rugs after a thorough cleaning can be brightened by wiping over the surface with water to which ammonia has been added.

Gas globes are also brightened by a bath in soapsuds and ammonia.

The curtains and other hangings are easily cleaned, and the furniture moved back. Just a hint: Change the arrangement of the chairs, and the room will seem to take a new life and an added attraction.

Then rest! One room at a time, remember. Perhaps it will take two weeks. What of it? Does not a good temper, a rested body, the knowledge of work well and thoroughly done warrant "making haste slowly?" Try the slow and sure method this year.

Cheese Puffs.

This is a good way to use up odd pieces of pastry and stale scraps of cheese. One egg and one extra yolk, two ounces of butter, three ounces of grated cheese, salt and pepper to taste and a quarter of a pound of pastry. Break the egg and extra yolk into a basin and beat them well. Melt the butter and add it slowly to the eggs, also the grated cheese and a pinch of salt and pepper. Roll out the pastry very thin, then stamp it with a cutter the size of a wine glass top. Spread a little of the cheese mixture over one round, leaving a narrow border of pastry around; brush the edge of a second round with a beaten egg or water, lay it over the mixture and press the edges together. Lay on a slightly greased baking tin, bake in a quick oven about ten minutes. Sprinkle them over with grated cheese and serve.

For Curtain Stretchers.

Any woman who is in need of curtain stretchers and has a set of quilting frames on hand, can make them in the following way: Buy some fine wire nails one-inch size, and put a row of them along one edge of your frames as far apart as the scallops of your curtains. Then secure your frames at the corners and stretch your curtains on the small nails. After all your curtains are done, remove the nails, as they are liable to rust if left in, and it is very easy to tack nails in the old holes when next you want to use them.

Pie Stand.

A very convenient receptacle for cakes and pies is made from a box. Stand the box on end and place strips at equal distances along each side inside the box. Let these support light pieces or strips of boards. This allows for the placing of a number of pies one above another and saves space. By removing one or more shelves cakes may be placed in it. This can be easily moved from room to room, or even taken on an outing. The front may be closed by either a screen or solid door as used on a cupboard.

To Freshen Curtains.

Take several newspapers and paste the edges together, then stretch the curtains to be cleaned upon them, putting a good amount of flour between each curtain, roll up in a tight bundle, tie and lay away for a week or so. Then shake out well and hang out on the line while you dust out all flour with a clean whisk-broom.

Camphor for Silver.

A lump of camphor kept near silver when not in use will prevent it tarnishing.

Nearly Smothered.

Chandler, N. C.—Mrs. Augusta Lomax, of this place, writes: "I had smothering spells every day, so bad I expected death at any time. I could not sit up in bed. I suffered from womanly troubles. My nerves were unstrung. I had almost given up all hope of ever being better. I tried Cardui, and it did me more good than anything I had ever taken. I am better now than I ever expected to be." Thousands of ladies have written similar letters, telling of the merits of Cardui. It relieved their headache, backache and misery just as it will relieve yours, if you will let it. Try Cardui.

Quick Business Transaction.

While a flock of sheep was being driven along the Glasgow and Carlisle road, near the town of Lockerbie, Scotland, the other day, a motor ran into it, killing three. The motorist at once drew up, inquired as to the cost of the sheep, paid for them, bade the shepherd "Good-day," and went on his way, the whole affair being the work of a few minutes.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION OF THE NEW YORK WORLD

Practically a Daily at the Price of a Weekly.

No Other Newspaper in the World Gives So Much at So Low a Price.

This is a time of great events and you will want the news accurately and promptly. The Democrats, for the first time in sixteen years, will have the Presidency and they will also control both branches of Congress. The political news is sure to be of the most absorbing interest.

There is a great war in the Old World, and you may read of the extinction of the vast Turkish Empire in Europe, just as a few years ago you read how Spain lost her last foot of soil in America, after having ruled the empire of half the New World.

The World long since established a record for impartiality, and anybody can afford its Thrice-a-Week edition, which comes every other day in the week, except Sunday. It will be of particular value to you now. The Thrice-a-Week World also abounds in other strong features, serial stories, humor, markets, cartoons; in fact, everything that is to be found in a first class daily.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD'S regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and the Hopkinsville Kentuckian together for one year for $2.65.

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $3.00.

He Couldn't Work Her.

While a Jewel City girl was selling tickets for the picture show, a man called for tickets and pushed in a five-dollar gold piece to pay for them, but the girl shoved it back. The man insisted it was money all right, but the girl informed him that he couldn't work her, and he didn't. He had to go out and borrow a dime. There are plenty of Kansas youngsters who never saw a gold piece.—Kansas City Star.

KEEP PIANO IN ORDER

INSTRUMENT NEEDS CARE IF TONE IS TO BE PRESERVED.

Keys Must Be Kept Clean and Care Taken That the Inside of the Case Is Kept Perfectly Free From Dust.

The keys of a piano should be regularly wiped off with a soft piece of silk or cheesecloth. If they are much soiled it may be necessary to wet the cloth with water or a few drops of alcohol; but they should be dried immediately. In case the keys are of celluloid alcohol should not be used. In no case use soap or a washing powder. If ink is dropped on ivory keys it is practically impossible to remove it, and a new piece of ivory must be substituted. Celluloid keys may be polished by adding to pumice powder either benzoline or turpentine, or even milk. Black keys, if not of ebony, may be retouched with black spirit enamel applied with a camel's hair brush.

The interior of a piano is often a repository for dust, scraps of paper and even the nests of mice. These should be removed with much care. To get at the inside of a piano it is necessary to take it apart more or less. Usually the lifting of the lid reveals the necessary wood buttons or screws. On releasing these the front will come loose, the "fall" or keyboard cover can be lifted away and the key-slip in front of the keys be unscrewed and removed. These investigations should be made by one who knows something of piano construction or by one who has a mechanical knack for putting things back where they belong.

The dirt can be removed with a stiff brush and the wires cleaned with fine emery cloth, glass paper or a piece of thick leather dipped in an equal mixture of flour emery and coarse emery in paraffin oil.

The felts on the hammers can be cleaned by applying dry pipe clay and then rubbing it off with a nailbrush.

Much trouble is caused by keys sticking. This may be remedied by removing the tight keys, cleaning the pivot and key pins of rust; or, if they are too large, rubbing them down with a fine emery cloth, afterward applying a little grease, but not oil. If care is not taken, however, the keys may become too loose and rattle.

Fruit Dryer.

Perhaps this simple method of drying fruit for winter use may help some busy housekeeper to save time.

Make a frame of soft wood two inches wide, and one inch thick that will cover the top of your stove, and tack on this frame good wire screening. At each corner drive in a staple, also drive staple in the ceiling just above the stove corners.

Now securely fasten a stout cord in the staples farthest from you, and run the cord up through both staples in the ceiling and then down to the staples near you and fasten. In this way one may lower the screen to the proper distance for drying or raise it up out of the way when wishing to use the stove. A large quantity may be dried quickly in this way. Apples dipped in weak salt water will not turn dark while drying.

California Cookies.

One cup of butter, two cups of white sugar, four cups of flour, one cup each of seeded or seedless raisins, half a cup of sweet milk, four eggs, one teaspoon each of lemon, vanilla and soda, one-fourth of a teaspoon of salt; cream butter and sugar; add eggs one at a time; beat till dough is nice and smooth; add milk, lemon and vanilla; add to the mixture and stir until smooth, then add remaining three cups of flour. Lastly, stir in raisins thoroughly ground through a meat chopper. Roll out on well floured board one-fourth of an inch thick, sprinkle with sugar and bake ten minutes in a moderate oven.

Convenient Ironing Board.

A stationary ironing board is a great convenience to the housewife, as it is ready for use at a moment's notice, and any husband can make one. Its broad end is fastened to the wall 35 inches from the floor with three stout hinges. At about two-thirds of the distance to the other end of the board is a stout leg, 35 inches long, attached with a hinge. The board is placed at the left of the window, with the range not many steps away. This location insures good light and a breath of air in warm weather. When not in use the board folds up against the wall, the leg falls down the length of the board, and the whole is secured by a button on the edge of the window casing.

Jellied Tomato Bouillon.

One can tomatoes, stewed down with one onion, and a little bay leaf; add half pint water; stew one-half hour; strain and add two teaspoonful Worcestershire sauce and a little red pepper and salt to taste; add teaspoonful of gelatine and pack in ice. Serve ice cold.

Potato Mud Remover.

All traces of mud can be removed from skirts and gentlemen's black garments by rubbing the stains with a raw cut potato.

Ambrosia.

Layer of sliced oranges and sliced pineapple. Sprinkle each layer with grated cocoanut.
